19 CHICKENS KILLED BY DOG

VISITS YARD AT NO. 1308 EAST GADSDEN STREET AND OTHER PLACES IN NORTHEASTERN PART OF CITY.

A white shaggy dog, according to reports filed at the police station, is playing havoc with chickens in different parts of the city and is being hunted day and night by special officers and policemen, but so far they have been unable to locate him. The dog is a chicken-eater and as a result of his visits at night to various hen roosts a large number of chickens have disappeared. He was seen a few nights ago leaving a yard in the northeastern part of the city and later at another place, but the persons who saw him were unable to prevent his escape. He destroyed a number of chickens at both of these places. The dog was last heard from, according to the police reports, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Coleman, 1308 East Gadsden street, where on Wednesday night he made away with nineteen chickens.

MR. BERNARD SEES PECANS

VICE-PRESIDENT OF CLEVELAND BASEBALL CLUB WENT TO TALLAHASSEE TO LOOK OVER HIS PECAN GROVE.

E. S. Bernard, of Cleveland, Ohio, vice-president of the Cleveland baseball club of the American league, returned yesterday from Tallahassee, where he went Wednesday morning on what was said to have been "club business." The speculation over the object of his trip was suddenly halted when he explained that he had run down to the capital to look over some property which he owns and had never seen. He was on "club business," but it was a club of owners of five-acre and ten-acre tracts of pecan trees which constitute a sort of endowment. Mr. Bernard said that he acquired interest in the property about a year ago and that he was gratified to find his trees all planted and coming along nicely. He got back in time to see the show at the Pensacola opera house, along with members of the Cleveland team here for spring practice.

W. KIPLE WAS NOT ASSAULTED

RECEIVED WOUND ON HEAD BY FALLING ON BRICK BEFORE ENTERING AUTOMOBILE THURSDAY MORNING.

An investigation by Chief of Police Sanders into the finding of Walter W. Kiple, formerly a member of the San Carlos hotel orchestra, with a wound in his head while being carried to his lodging place in an automobile about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, proved that Kiple was not assaulted with a brick before entering the machine.

According to the statement of one of the men who helped to place Kiple in the automobile, he fell on a brick a few minutes before the automobile arrived. The man who gave the chief this information also furnished the officer with the name of the other man who was with him.

Kiple was ordered carried to the police station by Officer Roach for the purpose of having the wound on his head dressed. His wound is not serious and he left the sick ward at the city jail early yesterday morning.

Kiple was placed in the automobile on Baylen street, between Intendencia and Romana streets, being found by Officer Roach when the automobile reached Intendencia street.

J. P. MORGAN & CO. DENY THERE IS A "MONEY TRUST"

Washington, Feb. 27.—A general denial of the existence or possibility of a "money trust," was presented to the house money trust committee today in a long letter from J. P. Morgan & Co. at the invitation of the committee.

Upon the receipt of the Morgan letter today, Chairman Pujo gave out a letter written to Morgan & Co. saying that the invitation to Morgan & Co. had been extended to January 27 and that the committee had been at work on its report for a month.

Your memorandum, the reply concluded, "manifestly comes too late to be of value."

The Morgan letter laid at the door of the present banking and currency laws the responsibility for any "concentration" of money and credit that may exist.

In its conclusions as to the committee's activities the letter said: "We venture to submit the consideration that in a strong public opinion, such as exists in this country, there lies the greatest safeguard of the community—always assuming that congress will evolve a basic system of banking which is scientific and sound—as at the present time, ours admittedly is not. The public, that is, the depositors, are the ones who entrust bankers with such influence and power as they today have in every civilized land and the public is unlikely to entrust that power to weak or evil hands.

Your counsel asked more than one witness whether the present power held by bankers in this country would not be a menace if it lay in evil hands. Such inquiry answers itself. All power, physical, intellectual, financial or political, is dangerous in evil hands. If congress were to fall into evil hands, the result might be deplorable. But to us, it seems as little likely that the citizens of this country will fill congress with rascals, as it is that they will entrust the leadership of their business and financial affairs to a set of clever rogues."

The letter says that such concentration of money in New York as has occurred is due to the "antiquated banking system" and the natural law, which "in every country creates some one city as the great financial center."

That part of the money trust resolution declaring that it is "generally believed" that groups of financiers, "create, avert and compose companies," was particularly attacked by the letter. Morgan & Co. set forth that any withholding of money or credit by one man in any market would be "promptly relieved by the automatic flow of credit from some altogether foreign source."

"We regret," said the letter, "that a belief so incredible, so absurd and so harmful to the country should for a moment have found lodgment anywhere. And we welcome your invitation as an opportunity for us to state that the extent of our observations and experience, there is not even a vestige of truth in the idea that in whole or in part the financial condition of 1907 was brought on through the design of any man or men."
